

REACH Management for Chemical Users

1 day seminar

Much of the focus of REACH awareness training has been on the obligations of manufacturers and importers of chemicals into the EU. However, all organisations which use chemicals have specific compliance responsibilities which need to be understood and managed.

This course provides an opportunity to understand these obligations and then act on them.

The day will keep to a maximum of 20 participants to allow questions and interaction.

Course topics:

- Identifying chemical uses
- Regulatory obligations under REACH
- Supply chain considerations
- Commercial considerations

Cost:

£250 per delegate includes course materials, refreshments and buffet lunch.

Venue:

The Centre for Chemicals Management, Lancaster University. Lancaster University lies 3 miles south of Lancaster city centre and is easily accessible by car or train. For directions please visit:

<http://www.lancs.ac.uk/travel/maps.htm>

The UK Centre for Chemicals Management is affiliated to The REACH Centre. Other affiliates include Hammonds and Watts & Crane and together they provide a comprehensive REACH service to meet all company needs.

Centre for Chemicals Management
Innovation, Research, Training and Consultancy for Industry